School, who will not forget graduation night in a hurry are Raymond Williams and Gloria Haskell, who, accompanied by four other young people of the town, were en route shortly after 10 o'clock Friday night, to attend the graduation ball at Waldoboro, when they were in collision with a bull moose on Route 1 just about a mile this side of Moody's cabins.

Williams, 18, the driver, was proceeding at a slow speed, but was unable to stop before striking the animal on the head, which came at windshield height. The glass was shattered, the only damage to the car, and the occupants received only a few bruises, and a shaking up. Later, after being reported to the State Police, the animal was found dead of broken neck in the ditch at the spot.

Degrees On Four

Conferred By Golden Rod Chapter Friday Night—School Of Instruction

Mr. and Mrs. Roland S. Rackliff, Miss Naomi Rackliff and Mrs. Richard S. Perry received the degrees at the meeting of Golden Rod Chapter, O. E. S. Friday night.

Guests were present from Grace Chapter of Thomaston; Forget-Me-Not Chapter of South Thomaston, and Sunrise Chapter of Canaan. Miss Flora Savage, associate matron, gave a report of the Grand Chapter sessions held recently in Lewiston.

Announcement was made of a school of instruction for this district to be held in Thomaston the afternoon of June 21, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred K. Collins of Auburn, grand conductress, who is district deputy this year. Supper will be served at 6:30 by Grace Chapter, and in the evening, the chapter will be inspected by Mrs. Mary D. Minott of South Portland, worthy grand matron.

Supper was served Friday night by Mrs. Doris Jordan, Mrs. Gertrude Boody, Mrs. Laura Maxey and Mrs. Grace Veazie, and the waitresses were: Miss Katherine A. Veazie, Mrs. Dorothy Merchant, Mrs. Frances Farrand, Miss Winifred Dimick, Miss Hilma Bradstreet and Mrs. Muriel Drinkwater.

Republican Primaries June 19th

"The natural resources of this great State—its wealth of scenic beauty—its recreational facilities—all must be supplemented by good roads.

Our industrial centers, with their mills and factories are, in a large measure, dependent upon an adequate highway system.

Without good roads no sound development program can be realized. We must, therefore, make every effort now and in the future postwar period to improve our roads and highways—so that we will be ready for the good days ahead which will come to Maine, and which this State merits so fully."

Book Review

A Treasury of American Folklore.
Edited by B. A. Botkin.

In the foreword, Carl Sandburg tells readers this book breathes of human diversity in these United States. The people of the present that is, and the future that is to be—many of them are seen here in their toll, laughter and struggle, are heard and made known in part in the heaped-up and sprawling materials of this book. It breathes life. In fact, it's an encyclopedia of the best folklore of America.

This is a book for every state of mind, to encourage rest and entertain one at the time needed. If one strikes a bias, turn to a sweet round of poetry or a thriller with fun and delightful ending. In these days of short periods for enjoyment of the full time literature, this is a grand uplift in the variety of thought it gives. A turn back in mind and heart to early days when life was full of games and songs and rhymes. Rest will be found in this remarkable compilation of Crown publishing of New York.

The Kiwanis Club

Hears Goss On Servicemen's Voting Law—Fourth Of July Celebration Abandoned

Harold I. Goss of Gardiner, secretary of state, was speaker at the Kiwanis Club meeting last night, giving a comprehensive talk on the new servicemen's voting law. Declaring that there is "no effort on the part of anyone to deprive people of the opportunity to vote," Mr. Goss explained that there were no changes in the qualifications of a voter, and that registration of men and women in service was the greatest difficulty.

The speaker said that those in charge of registration, whether selectmen or assessors in towns and the registration boards in cities, may add to the voting lists, up to the day of election, any member of the armed service. A serviceman at home on furlough does not use the absentee form. "We feel keenly about this right to vote for it is one of the principles for which we are fighting," Mr. Goss stated. He explained about using a federal ballot in case a state ballot has not been received, and pointed out that the provision for absentee voting of servicemen is only temporary, ceasing six months after war ends and does not permanently amend our voting law.

Singing was led by D. Robert McCarty, with Arthur P. Lamb at the piano; Lieutenant Governor C. Everett Page of Dover-Foxcroft, was introduced and spoke briefly, and Chief Petty Officer Levi R. Flint of Rockland was introduced as a guest of a member.

Almon M. Young, chairman of the War Honor Roll committee said that 926 names were now on the honor roll board; that 24 more names were to be added shortly and that spaces remained for 130 more names.

Fred C. Black reported that the Fourth of July celebration had decided not to go ahead with plans discussed but that there would be a re-dedication of the War Honor Roll board, with a concert by the Rockland City Band. The speaker was introduced by Arthur H. Robinson, program chairman.

Following the meeting, Lieut. Governor Page conferred with members of the board of directors of the club.

THE COURIER-GAZETTE

TWICE-A-WEEK

Editor, FRANK A. WINSLOW
Associate Editor, MRS. WILLIAM O. FULLER

The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846. In 1874 the Courier was established and consolidated with the Gazette in 1882. The Free Press was established in 1855 and in 1891 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1897.

Subscriptions $3.00 per year, payable in advance; single copies four cents. Advertising rates based upon circulation and very reasonable.

[EDITORIAL]

With general acceptance of the belief that Dewey may be nominated on the first ballot much surprise will be occasioned in many quarters by the report of Jack Steele, staff correspondent of the Herald Tribune—the country's leading Republican newspaper—that Dewey's victory on the first ballot is "held doubtful" and that "enthusiasm for the New York Governor is reported waning, with the convention fight in sight."

Readers of The Courier-Gazette may recall that we stressed as significant the recent action of the Indiana State Convention in crying down a resolution which would have pledged the State's delegates to Gov. Dewey. What seemed to us then as a "stop Dewey" movement, seems to have foundation in fact. Correspondent Steele says that while it apparently lacks any central direction or single impetus it is none the less obvious that it has rolled up in the past two or three weeks to greatly injure Dewey's chances. Steele's article is punctuated with "ifs" which may vanish like dew before the morning sun when the Dewey hordes arrive on the convention scene. Be that as it may the Chicago convention no longer promises to be a cut and dried affair.

Newspapers have begun the publication of a series of eight articles, known as "Willkie's Platform" in which the 1940 candidate sets forth his personal views as to what the Republican National Convention should do. The purport of the articles is open to speculation. Does he mean as one paper suggested yesterday—"take this platform, or else," or is it an honest effort to direct a forthright policy for the G. O. P. to follow. Whether it is a threat or well meant advice it behooves the Republican leaders and the Republican delegates to give close heed to these momentous documents. Willkie's support in this crucial campaign is strongly to be desired, and his advice should not be heedlessly snubbed if it hews close to the line of honest Republican thought. Willkie quit the candid field after the first test, gifted with a foresight which few disappointed aspirants possess. In the minds of many persons Willkie is stronger today than he was before his defeat in Wisconsin. He may prove a disappointment but we are loath to believe it.

Labor ranks, which have been twisted at will around the skillful political fingers of President Roosevelt in the last three elections, show some signs of breaking away, according to the latest Gallup poll. In 1936 the percentage of labor vote cast was 80 for Roosevelt and 20 for the Republican nominee. In 1940 it was 72 for Roosevelt and 28 for Willkie. Today's indications as found by the American Institute of Public Opinion are that Roosevelt would have 66 percent and Dewey (if nominated) would have 34. The Roosevelt-Dewey vote among, skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled workers, whether they belong to unions or not is 59 and 41. Well may the Republicans take heart.

It is another fantastic item in the long record of President Roosevelt's intensely personal direction of our foreign affairs—a system made all too familiar in domestic fields as well—that Gen. de Gaulle finds it necessary to visit the White House at this time. The near presence in London of the man who stands above all others as the symbol of united resistance and the rebirth of France, Gen. de Gaulle, is plainly highly desirable. His voice has already called effectively for co-operation. His leadership is of the highest importance in the current weeks. It is no longer a question of recognition. The issue is simply whether for the practical purposes of setting up a temporary regime in the liberated regions, the Allies will turn to the committee or to some government of their own invention. There can be no question which system will be better in a military sense, thereby saving American lives and hastening victory. The De Gaulleists are well organized. Their underground units hold the sturdiest and most capable co-operators—whether for espionage, for sabotage or for plain fighting. We shall continue to hope that the President will accept the advice of his military experts and permit full co-operation between our troops and the Frenchmen best able to aid them. If the visit of Gen. de Gaulle can help toward that end, may he come soon! He will be a welcome and honored guest, in any event. But we cannot overlook the system of personal rule which makes such a trip unavoidable. The need for a change in Washington and the arrival of an orderly, consistent rule—the product of the best brains the country affords, functioning under an able executive—was never more glaringly exhibited.—Herald Tribune.

The Rotary Club

Col. Stoddard Brings Message Of Comfort—Some Coming Events

Col. Malcolm L. Stoddard, manager of the U. S. Veterans Facilities at Togus, speaking before Rotarians and guests Friday brought a message of comfort to those with relatives in the several branches of the armed services. Col. Stoddard, a veteran of World War I, and who has been in close contact with veterans for many years, said that in the present war, treatment for wounded was immediately available that air transport carries men who have suffered casualties, to hospitals far from the fighting fronts, where they receive the best of surgical and medical care.

While it was thought adequate after the Civil and Spanish wars, to send the men home, give them a pension or make provisions for their care in a soldier's home, much more was done for the fighting men of World War I, through efforts made by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Principal advantages were adequate hospital facilities and the establishment of vocational training programs. Col. Stoddard declared that we were fortunate in Maine, with a population of under one million, to have such a hospital as has been provided at Togus.

The speaker, who was introduced by Jerome C. Burrows, program chairman, urged that business men make plans in order that men have something to do when they return home, and said that many towns and cities have made surveys to find out how to provide work.

Rev. John Smith Lowe, D. D., in a brief talk, referred to D-Day and President Roosevelt's statement of "Let us Pray," urged that all Rotarians go to church on Sunday.

Guests were Carl O. Nelson of Rockland and Albert Fennimore of Togus, and the visiting Rotarians were Charles A. Holden of Hanover N. H., and Rev. Melvin H. Dorr of Camden.

President Joseph W. Robinson announced that the club has been invited by Principal Joseph E. Blaisdell to hold its luncheon June 23 at the High School, and Jerome C. Burrows that members had indicated that about 90 would attend the ladies night party at Samoset Hotel June 30. Kelley B. Crie, with Stafford M. Congdon at the piano, conducted the group singing.

Pvt. Parker Starrett, USMS, Parry Island, South Carolina and Mrs. Starrett of Bath, were in Warren Thursday last week to visit his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Starrett, while Pvt. Starrett was on furlough.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

Senior examination will be given June 14, 15 and 16. Other final exams will be given June 16, 19, 20, and 21. Juniors and Seniors who grades average 85 for the year, with no more than five days of absence for the last quarter, may be exempted from these exams. Report cards will be given out Friday, June 23, at 9 o'clock.

Devotional exercises at Junior High assembly on Wednesday morning were conducted by Elizabeth Crozier of Room 22. Principal Blaisdell spoke briefly concerning the waste paper collection, and the choice of the Senior High courses by 8th grade students.

Students elected to Junior National Honor Society for their scholarship, leadership, service and character: Peter Sulides, Diane Cameron, Donald Marsh, Jean Young, Gloria Studley, Cynthia Knowlton, Carol Ann Wolcott, Betty Staples, Clifford Harper, Earlene Perry, Kathleen Paul, Marilyn Spear and Elizabeth Brewster.

Mr. Sturtevant's physics class, Monday, presented another in the Westinghouse series of radio skits, "Electronic Miracles." The characters, "Paul Shannon" and "Dr. Phillips Thomas," were portrayed by Ernest Munro and Vance Norton, Jr. The skit dealt with practical applications of electronic tubes in everyday living. The value of the electronic tube in war was thoroughly discussed, also.—Edith Carr.

Baccalaureate services of the Class of 1944 will take place June 18, in the Community Building, at 7:30 p. m. The pastors of all the churches in the city have been invited to sit on the stage, and several will have a part in the service. Music will be by the Girls Glee Club directed by Mrs. Sanborn, and a trumpet solo by Bickford Sylvester.

THE NOBLE ROMANS
Oh, Noble Cassius led the band,
Walked with Caesar hand in hand,
Then with Brutus' sword he fell.
Did the murder that march morn.
Yet while Caesar stood at bay,
All he said was "Et, tu, Brute."
The Noble Brutus told them all
Why their Caesar had to fall.
"For your liberty and say,
We slew Caesar this day."
There lay Caesar, slain by sword,
On this day the Ides of March.
Greatest hero in the land,
Then Sir Anton said his say
And the people rushed away
After Cassius and his band.
Fiercy burning like a brand,
While they searched their hunted prey
Noble Cassius ran away.

Caesar in the other world
Lived right on—he seemed unfurled,
When at Brutus' tent he came
Brutus asked him for his name.
Then dear Brutus said his men,
Bade them go to sleep again.
For not one had Caesar seen.
Brutus turned a little green.
At long last at Philip's
Cassius perished with a sigh,
Brutus spoke of him quite well
Called him noble when he fell.
And soon after when once more
Caesar came up from the shore,
Brutus fell the last of his kind,
Perishing there by his own hand.
—Leo Connellan

Ushers at the Baccalaureate services will be John Brann, William McLellan, Ernest Munro, Vance Norton, Wendell Webber, Jack Hatteson, Douglas Curtis, Dale Lindsey, Jack Galiano, Charles Philbrook, Harold Wiggin.

Juniors taking beginners' book-keeping who are on the Honor Roll in Mrs. Cooley's room, for having an average of 90 or over, so far, are Dorothy Harden, Helen Manchester, Della Morrison, Ann Toolitt, and Eleanor Weed.

The annual initiation ceremony of the National Honor Society will take place at 3 o'clock next Thursday afternoon in the High School auditorium. Those who are to be initiated are: (Seniors) Fred E. Allen, Pauline Havener, Onni Kangas, Jon Ann Look, Lincoln McRae, Jr., and Richard Stevens; (Juniors) Vina Delmonico, Sandra Hallowell, Albert Hayener, Betty Hempstead and Margaret Jackson.

Assisting the sponsor, Mr. Smith, in the ritual of the ceremony are: Robert Brown, regent; Ralvan Welker, Torch Bearer; Carl Gray, Flag Bearer; Kenneth Mignault, Bugler; Barbara Allen, Accompanist; Charles Seaman, Chaplain; Benjamin Shapiro, Warden of Scholarship; Ruth McMahon, Warden of Service; Elizabeth Holmes, Warden of Character; Alice Hall, Warden of Leadership; and members of the Girls' Glee Club.

The faculty of Senior and Junior High are holding a picnic tonight at "The Century" Spruce Head, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sturtevant. The lobster dinner will be served by the men.

In Miss Hughes 7th and 8th grade History and Civics classes, notebooks for the year have been completed. These are varied in content, consisting of study guides, outlines, map work, graphs, stories, poems, charts, and drawings. There are many outstanding books rich in original material and unique in design; but the five best books chosen in each division were made by the following: Earlene Perry, Jean Young, Peter Sulides, Marilyn Spear, Clifford Harper, Mary Walker, Nathalie Nash, Charles Perry, Madeline Rubenstein, Jack Passon, Almada Smith, Margaret Packard, Ethel Smith, Lewis Coltart, Henry Conary, Grace Fraughton, Alfred Rawley, Emily Molloy, Chester Mason, Beverly Gerrish, Thelma Alley, Betty Pendleton, Elaine Christofferson, Richard Pease, Richard Harper, Juliette Bridges, William Wood, Christine Flood, Maxine Denbourn, Malcolm McCreay, Elizabeth Moore, Charlene Valenta, Louise Ulmer, Margaret Wallace, Betty Benner, Frances Robshaw, Irene Olson, Frederick Thompson, Gilman Ramsdell and Marion Fitzgerald.

The annual Letterman's Banquet will be held June 14, with Betty O'Brien, Dale Lindsey, and Fred E. Allen in charge.

The speaker at Tuesday's Senior High assembly was Clyde Hatch, formerly a pilot in the Army Air Corps and now principal of Rockport High School. He gave an enlightening talk on "Pre-flight Aviation," and described the eight weeks of basic training that an air cadet must have. Speaking of the 5th War Loan Drive he said "We can only be 100% behind our men in this invasion by being 100% in our support of them." Ernest Munro led morning devotions and introduced the speaker.

Kiddie Bond Show

Free To Youngsters Who Sell Fifth War Bond In The Coming Drive

Rockland school children will play a big part in the Fifth War Bond Drive which starts June 12. A big Kiddie Bond Show will be held at Park Theatre Saturday morning July 1. Admission will be absolutely free to children who buy a bond or take the sale of a bond to Park Theatre.

This is a great opportunity for every boy and girl of school age to see a free movie and at the same time help win the war. A feature production, "Hit the Ice" with Abbott and Costello, and several cartoons will be shown at this special morning show.

Every boy and girl will be out selling bonds in an effort to do a great job for our fighting men, and great surprises are in store for the six children who sell the most bonds during the drive period.

Yes, the six children who sell the most bonds will be the guests of the Ash Point Naval Air Station where they will be given an extensive tour of this great Air Station in a real, honest-to-goodness jeep.

Every boy and girl will want to be one of the "Honored Six" to be taken on this interesting tour and participate in the many added surprises that will be in store for them, so everybody can be sure of a red hot bond selling campaign on the part of Rockland's children. Get on the mark kids. The Drive starts June 12, so start looking over your bond prospects and be ready to start your bond selling with a bang.

Don't forget a free Kiddie Bond Show for every boy and girl who sells or buys a bond. On top of that if you and one of the six best bond sellers you will be among the "Honored Six" who will be so proud riding around in a jeep on a complete tour of Rockland's Naval Air Station.

Rockland Lions

Hold Annual Election Of Officers—Will Have Outing July 5th

Dr. Bradford F. Burgess was elected president of the Rockland Lions Club at meeting Wednesday noon at the Thorndike Hotel. Other officers elected were: Frank F. Harding and Willis R. Vinal, vice presidents; Howard P. Crockett, treasurer; Karl M. Leighton, secretary; Wilbur F. Senter, tall twister; Gerald S. Grant, lion tamer; Howard P. Crockett, song leader; and Laurence J. Dandeneau and Dr. Dana S. Newman, directors.

Plans for the installation of officers and a ladies' night party—outing, July 5, will be made by a committee consisting of Wilbur F. Senter and C. Earle Ludwick.

Rev. Ernest O. Kenyon offered a prayer for success of the invasion of Europe and the group sang "Star Spangled Banner." A. Everett Libby of Vinalhaven was a visitor and Harry E. Johnson of Swan's Island, who is to commence service with the "Sandpiper" between Swan's Island and Rockland making trips Mondays, Wednesdays and Friday, was introduced and given an ovation.

There was no guest speaker and the meeting was closed early by President Dandeneau, following the singing of several patriotic songs. Rev. Ernest O. Kenyon and Frank F. Harding were appointed on the entertainment committee for July.

This Is Urgent!

Must Have Farm Workers If We Are Not To Face A Food Famine

Enough food for everyone in 1944-45 is quite a problem. This year is going to be one of the most serious that farmers in Knox and Lincoln counties have experienced in many years. The heavy rains of last year prevented fall plowing so that less acreage is being handled.

May of this year was the driest on record and no rain in sight. This past week the frost killed many acres of vegetables through Maine and New England. All of these point to a serious food shortage.

Another problem which is coming later is the harvesting of the crops that are produced. All vegetables must be harvested this year, for they will be needed. Will there be enough labor to do this work?

The Extension Service is assisting in obtaining farm labor and during August and September there will be many emergency workers needed in the picking of canning beans, raking blueberries and other harvesting work on the farms.

This coming week the women's division of the Citizens' Service Corps, Rockland under the direction of Mrs. Horatio C. Cowan, is making a canvas of Rockland in connection with the Fifth War Bond Drive and at the same time will distribute circulars and enrollment cards for Emergency Workers.

Anyone desiring to assist in harvesting of important crops in the County should return the card to County Agent R. C. Wentworth of the Extension Service.

Frost Killed All

Night Of June 6 Bad One For The Germans and Jennie Howard

Nobleboro, June 8.
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—In answer to Mr. Philbrick's recently published letter concerning dried-apple sauce, I wish to mention that I dry a lot of apples every year. I guess I must be one of the old timers of whom he speaks, as I cook mine with one-half syrup and one-half sugar.

To make an apple pie, soak them over night and then slowly drain. Add sugar, spice, and you will have an apple pie which will melt in your mouth. I am sure that the groceries bought with dry apples today, would look pretty small.

I had a large garden all growing with peas all in bloom, 60 tomato plants, 1000 hills of potatoes and many smaller vegetables, when came the cold night of June 2. Frost struck heavy in this section and killed them all, even the potatoes. Now there will be no vegetables on my table for the Fourth of July. I hope no one else had such terrible loss as I did.

Jennie Howard.

Allied Force Press Headquarters, Italy—Corporal Roland L. Richards winch operator, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Richards, 57 Gleason St., Thomaston, is with an American Port Battalion attached to Peninsular Base Section that set a new world's record for Army Stevedoring by unloading 6500 long tons of mortar and artillery ammunition from a Liberty Ship in 24 hours to supply Allied troops fighting Italy. Upon hearing of the new record, Admiral Sir John Cunningham commander in chief of the Mediterranean, wired his congratulation "to all concerned" through the Port Commander, Colonel Robert H. Clarkson, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The new address of Pvt. Maynard H. Metcalf, Jr. of Rockland is: Ward 50, Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Mitchell of Burketville have received word that their youngest son, Fernald, has arrived with the Infantry in England. He was recently promoted to Sergeant. Another son, Cpl. Kenneth Mitchell, who is in the Army Air Corps, is stationed somewhere in the British Isles. Their addresses may be obtained from their parents.

Is Again Chairman

Mrs. Charles A. Emery was re-elected general chairman of the executive board of the Rockland Servicemen's Club at the annual meeting held last week. Other officers and committees elected were: Mrs. H. V. Tweedie, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Emery, Sr., secretary; Mrs. Jennie Feyler, apartment and room committee; Miss Rose Cucchiello, chairman, Miss Ruth L. Rogers and Miss Violet Lombardo, btx committee; Mrs. A. D. Morey, jar money; Mrs. Kenneth Mills, games and literature; Miss Delma Smalley, junior hostess list and Mrs. Charles A. Emery, ways and means.

Announcement was made that the yearly dues of 50 cents are now payable. There is a need for regular and substitute hostesses and those desiring to serve should notify Mrs. David S. Beach, Mrs. Charles A. Emery or any member of the board. Regular hostesses may invite a friend to be their guest during their hours at the service room.

A fine report of the Youth Conference held recently in Augusta, written by Miss Betty Beach, who represented this club, was read by her mother, Mrs. David Beach. The need for a tennis court was discussed and it is hoped that arrangements can be made for use of a court. It was reported that the dance held June 5 was successful, both from a social and financial standpoint.

It was announced, that the sending of boxes to men at outlying stations, will be discontinued until such time as they are again needed.

Save Jewish People!

Recently at the First Baptist Church the following petition was signed by 150 adults:

"To Franklin Delano Roosevelt, President of the U.S.A. and to the U. S. Congress in legislative session assembled:

"The extermination of an entire people arouse the decent instincts of mankind to demand that immediate and effective measures be taken to stop such barbarous action. "We, Americans have always upheld the right of all men to 'life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness,' and have engaged in two world wars on the side of humanity, civilization and democracy.

"Therefore, we, the undersigned Americans, call upon the Executive and Legislative branches of our Government to create a special Inter-governmental Agency to save the Jewish people of Europe, with powers and means to act at once, and on a large scale.

"We also respectfully petition our Government to convey to the British Government, which was entrusted with the Mandate over Palestine, the desire of Americans that the doors of Palestine be opened to all European Jews escaping the death trap of Europe, and their conviction that it is against all justice that the Jews alone, of all people, are not allowed free entry into Palestine.

"We hereby appeal to the President and the Congress of the U. S., the guardians of America's humanitarian tradition, to take this action at once."

Court Of Award Girl Scouts Hold Open House Tuesday Night In Tower Room

This is Miss Pearl Bergerson, Rockland Girl Scouts' new Commissioner who heads a thriving organization.

Rockland's Girl Scout troops have the highlights of their year Tuesday night at the Tower Room, Community Building, when the annual Court of Award will be held, doors opening at 7 o'clock and friends and relatives of the Girl Scouts invited.

The program will open with greetings by Mrs. Shankland followed by the Flag ceremony, the National Anthem and the Scout Promise. The Brownie Scout program will be presented by Mrs. Oliver Ingraham followed by the impressive candlelight service directed by Mrs. Paul Bailey. The Fifth Grade awards will then be made by Mrs. Bailey and the Sixth Grade awards by Mrs. Shankland. "God Bless America" will be followed by the good night circle (tops) and refreshments.

[Unavoidable war time congestion forces presentation in the Friday issue of the names of the deserving youngsters who will receive the awards and the report of the fine work done the past year by the Brownie troop].

Satisfaction over Sunday's storm was tinged with regret on the part of baseball fans that the great game to have been played by Rockland High School and the Old Timers was rained out. This may have been timely intervention on the part of Providence, as some of the aging ball tossers were still hors de combat as the result of Thursday night's practice. But they have since been eating the proper vitamins, keeping their chamber windows open nights, and taking such other precautions as constitute real challenges. So if the students are doing nothing else than smiling up their sleeves they may find that the Old Timers have stolen a march. The game was postponed to Thursday night and will be played at 6 o'clock in Community Park. The proceeds will go to the High School honor roll.

Magazines make wonderful gifts: American, 2 yrs. $5.00; Woman's Home Companion, 2 yrs. $2.50; Collier's, 1 yr. $3.00, Life $4.50, Time, $5.00. All magazines published. Greeting cards, 14 & 16. $1.00; Personal stationery, 100 sheets, $2.00, single or double; or 50 double sheets, $1.00, in granite, ivory, white or blue. Sherwood E. Frost, 156 No. Main St., Tel. 1181J. —adv.

A warm welcome at The Brook awaits Roger Conant who arrived last night from a Memphis (Tenn.) hospital, discharged from the service. He was in the New Guinea combat zone at one time.

George Ryan is in Boston this week.

Off To The Wars Fifteen Knox County Volunteers Went To Portland This Morning

Fifteen Knox County men, with Phillip B. Edmonds as leader, answering the fifth call for the Navy left for the Naval Receiving station in Portland today. The list: Phillip Benjamin Edmonds, Thomaston. Everett William Snowdeal, Camden.

Frank B. Collins, Rockland. Ronald Alexander Gillis, North Haven.

Donald Karl Crute, Cushing. Vernon Francis Hupper, Rockland.

Edward Raymond Noyes, Rockland. William Everett Marston, Rockland.

William MacIntosh, Appleton. Carl Sprague Reed, Jr., Owl's Head.

Vernal Chester Wallace, Warren. Alton Lawrence Pease, Appleton. John Frank Upham, North Union. Paul Weidig Horeysek, Rockland. Harold Gardner Wilbur, Camden. All are volunteers with the exception of Mr. Wilbur, who was transferred from Roxbury, Mass.

Ralph R. Ulmer Camp and Auxiliary, Spanish War Veterans, will meet tomorrow night at Legion Hall. Supper at 6 will be in charge of Mrs. Margie Thorndike. Members will take prizes.

J. N. Southard, skipper of the Sea Scout Ship Red Jacket, received yesterday from Howard D. Butler, field scout executive, Augusta, a certificate reading as follows: "This certificate is issued on behalf of the Sea Scout Committee of Region 1. Sea Scout Ship Red Jacket has been awarded membership in the Regional Flagship Flotilla for the year of 1944, and is hereby privileged to fly the flag of a Sea Scout Ship of this class." The certificate is signed by Don W. Moyer, Regional Scout Executive and E. Seymour Clark, Regional Sea Scout Commodore. The Red Jacket has three crews, with 19 members. Skipper Southard says that the success of the "ship" is due to 1st Mate John Alton Perry, who is always on the job doing his best to make things interesting for the boys.

Rockland High School Alumni Association will hold its annual meeting and reception for the Class of 1944 at the High School June 22 at 8 o'clock. An entertainment program is being planned, which will be followed by roll call of classes and dancing and refreshments. Yearly dues are now payable to Mrs. Eleanor Johnson, treasurer, or to the collectors: Miss Lucille Connon, Mrs. Virginia Stoddard, Mrs. Marie Dodge Reed, Miss Katherine Veazie, Miss Veronica Murphy and Miss Naomi Rackliff.

Mrs. Alvis B. Epps, formerly employed at the telephone office and more recently in the P. W. Woolworth office, entered the employ of the Sears Order Office, yesterday.

George Ryan is in Boston this week.

The Blue Cross Plan The Dates For The Third Annual Enrollment Are June 19-24

Announcement of the third annual enrollment for membership in the Blue Cross Hospital Plan is made by Paul A. Webb, executive director of the Associated Hospital Service in Maine. The dates are June 19-24.

The opportunity to join is being offered for this limited time only, and anyone residing in Knox County who is not already a member should sign up at once. Saturday June 24 is the deadline. No applications can be accepted after that date for an indefinite period. Continuation of existing membership is automatic without reapplication.

Information about the Blue Cross and applications forms may be obtained at the Camden Community Hospital, Camden; and Knox Hospital, Rockland, where headquarters have been set up by Walter P. Black, enrollment manager of the Associated Hospital Service of Maine.

Applications when properly filled out and accompanied by the initial payment may be returned to either of the hospitals. Subsequent payments may be made at the First National Bank of Rockland, or at Knox County Trust Company of Camden and Rockland. The operation of these banks greatly facilitates the working of the Blue Cross Plan, and is appreciated by the Association and the subscribers.

A Play In Two Acts Features Methodist Student Day Program At Pratt Memorial Church

The Methodist Student Day program, presented in the church auditorium Sunday night was a two-act play, entitled, "We Offer Thee Our Youth." The first act represented a scene in an army barracks, with a cast consisting of Ernest Munro, Kenneth Chatto, Albert Haverer, Robert Achorn and David Hoch, all wearing their Civil Air Patrol uniforms. The second act was a church scene with Florence Knight and Edith Carr preparing a program for Student Day.

Features of the second act were selections by the Junior Choir, directed by Mrs. Carol Jilison; a vocal solo, "In the Garden," Ernest Munro; a violin solo by Frederick Anderson and a talk by Florence Knight on, "What Methodist Student Day Means."

During the second act, members of the beginners and primary departments of the church school, presented a program prepared by Mrs. Thelma Stanley and announced by Edith Carr. This included the following numbers: Children's Day welcome. James Favreau, Ann Tracy, Freddie Favreau, Carol Ann Cash and Richard Trask for the primary department and Charles Mahoney for the beginners; song, Diane McAlliff; recitation, June Flowers, Janet and Jeanne Stewart.

Exercise, Diane McAlliff, Ruth Williamson, Joan Philbrook, Caroline Kallach, Sandra Leigh, Norma Hickman and Donna Savage; piano solo, Joan Philbrook; recitation, "What the Daisies Say," Janet.

Mrs. A. G. Hempstead directed the first act and Mrs. Cheever C. Ames directed the second act. Church decorations of white spirea, yellow day lilies and blue iris were arranged by Mrs. H. V. Tweedie.

Herbert W. Deever, former teacher, coach at Rockland High School, and for two years principal of Warren High School, has resigned as principal of Gorham High School to accept a similar position with Milo High School.

WHAT IS THE BLUE CROSS?

... a cooperative, plan for paying hospital bills. The BLUE CROSS is a community service uniting hospitals and the general public in a non-profit, non-political plan to improve the distribution of adequate hospital care. It aims to assure you and your dependents of the finest hospital care available with the expense taken care of in advance of need on an easy group budgeting basis.

Eighty-eight thousand men, women and children in the state of Maine are now enjoying the peace of mind and the freedom from worry that come from membership in Maine's only approved BLUE CROSS plan. The Associated Hospital Service of Maine is the only organization in this state authorized by a specially enacted law to offer hospital service benefits under terms guaranteed by the hospitals themselves; it is the only organization in Maine numbered among the 77 hospital-sponsored plans, protecting more than 14 million people, privileged to be identified by the seal of the American Hospital Association superimposed upon a blue cross—indicating that it has met the high standards established for this vital health service.

Vinalhaven Graduates Treat Of World War II In Fine Exercises

Commencement exercises of the class of 1944, Vinalhaven High School were held Thursday night in Memorial Hall. Decorations were blue and white (the class colors) festooned from ceiling lights to balcony railing. The stage was artistically arranged with large baskets of late spring flowers placed beside a white picket fence. The base of the platform banked with evergreen with "1944" done in white flowers.

Seniors in caps and gowns entered the hall, preceded by the marshal, Jane Libby, a junior gownned in white, gracefully swinging the baton decorated with blue and white ribbons, as she led the class through their seats on the stage. Mrs. Leola Smith playing the "Aida" march.

Theme of the program was World War II. The graduates were a high ranking class and splendid work was done with class papers, song and essays on war maneuvers in the Pacific, Africa, Europe and at Home, which showed excellent training given by Principal Adams and assistants, Miss Helene Ballatt and Mrs. Nellie Marston.

Substitute the past term for Miss Phyllis Black, who is ill at her home.

The program was: Processional; Invocation, Rev. Charles Mitchell; salutatory, "War in the Pacific," Irene Ames; will, Mildred Philbrook; gifts, Lucille Bruce; vocal selection, "God Bless America," Norma Skoog; "War in Europe," Elizabeth Dyer; prophecy, Phyllis Swears; valedictory, "War At Home" Marion Oakes.

Supt. G. A. Bragdon gave a short but impressive address to the graduates before presenting diplomas. Benediction was by Rev. C. S. Mitchell.

Class motto was "The elevator to success is not running; take the stairs."

at her home Friday night.

Mrs. Marion B. Headley
Mrs. Marion Black Headley, wife of Joseph Headley, died June 7 in Boston after a long illness. She was born in this town, daughter of Mrs. Annie Black and the late Joseph H. Black. Her age was 52 years.

Mrs. Headley graduated from Vinalhaven High School in 1911. She also graduated from Farmington Normal School and taught in Chelsea, Mass., Bedford, Mass., and several years in this town. She was a member of Marguerite Chapter, O.E.S. and the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Headley was a woman of fine personality, a devoted wife. Her love for her home and family were her strongest ties. She was a neighbor and friend of inestimable value and will be greatly missed.

She is survived by her husband, her mother Mrs. Annie Black, sister Mrs. Alton Lewis of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a twin sister, Mrs. Leo W. Lane of this town, Mrs. George Strachan of Springfield, Mass., Mrs. Gilbert Auld of Pownall, Miss Virginia Black and Miss Phyllis Black of Vinalhaven and one brother, Kenneth Black of Lenoir City, Tenn.

The body was accompanied here by her husband and sisters and services were held Sunday at the family residence, Rev. Charles S. Mitchell officiating, assisted by Rev. Douglass Auld.

The abundance of floral tributes testified to the love and esteem in which she was held. Interment was in John Carver Cemetery. The bearers were Wilbur Combs, Ralph Brown, A. E. Libby, A. E. Carver, Charles Webster, A. A. Peterson, George Bragdon, John Stordahl.

Those from out of town to attend the services were: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Strachan, Mr. and Mrs. Auld, Miss Black, Mr. Black, Rev. and Mrs. Douglas Auld of Bradford and Mrs. Neva H. Williams of South Portland.

WITH THE EXTENSION AGENTS AND THE KNOX-LINCOLN FARM BUREAU

Agricultural Notes

The frost of last week did much damage to vegetables and blueberries.

Orchardists are applying the calyx spray. In many cases this is the first spray that many of the men have applied. Donald Johnson, Jefferson, reports good results with the new sprayer purchased this year.

Ammonium nitrate applied at the rate of 150 pounds per acre will give some very good grazing this fall. The material should be applied just before a rain or during a good shower. Do not let the cattle on the land until all the nitrate has been dissolved.

George Tibbets of North Whitefield, has 12 acres of ladino clover which looks very well. He plans to use it for both hay and pasture.

Farmers should plan to top dress their hay and pasture land this summer for it looks like a short hay crop. Poultry manure applied during a light rain will give wonderful results.

With The Homes
The first of the country-wide series of food preservation meetings was held at the Orr's Corner Farm Bureau, May 31. The home demonstration agent demonstrated the canning of tomatoes by the hot pack method in the boiling water bath. The other methods of preservation demonstrated were the making of sauerkraut, the salting and the drying of greens.

Washington Farm Bureau held a preservation meeting June 2 at the home of Mrs. Elmer Bird. Joyce Johnson, home demonstration agent, demonstrated how easily tomatoes can be canned if a few precautions are observed. Fresh peas were dried and spinach was salted at this meeting in Washington.

Food preservation meetings this year are designed both as a "refresher" for women with experience in canning, drying and salting foods, and to instruct women who may be using these methods for the first time. Similar meetings will be held in these towns in the next two weeks: June 12, Vinalhaven; June 13, Edgemoor; June 14, Alna; June 15, Whitefield; June 16, Bristol; June 20, Simonston; June 22, North Warren; June 22, Rockport; and June 23, Tenant's Harbor.

4-H Club Notes
The Singing Sewing 4-H Club of West Rockport held the first 4-H preservation meeting in Knox County, June 2, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Mary Andrews.

Mrs. Loana Shibles, War Foods Assistant, demonstrated how to can tomatoes and rhubarb in the boiling water bath using the hot pack method. The use of the pressure cooker was explained as well as the various types of jars and rubbers.

4-H preservation meetings already scheduled in Knox County are: June 10, Appleton; June 13, Burketville; June 15, South Thomaston; June 20, Pleasant Point; June 21, Warren; June 23, Thomaston; June 29, Hope.

The first 4-H preservation meeting in Lincoln County was held in Waldoboro High School, June 1. Through the cooperation of the Home Economics teacher, Miss Helen Deering and Superintendent Gray, all interested girls from the upper grades and the high school were invited to attend. Twenty-two 4-H club members and 15 guests were at the demonstration. Mrs. Helen Dana, War Foods Assistant, showed how to can tomatoes by the hot pack method in the boiling water bath. A discussion of different types of jars and covers and the use of the pressure cooker was held.

4-H preservation meetings already scheduled for Lincoln County are: June 13, Boothbay Center; June 14, Bristol; June 15, West Boothbay Harbor; June 19, Damariscotta Mills; June 21, Dresden; June 22, South Jefferson; June 27, Coopers Mills; and June 27, East Edgemoor.

Port Clyde Man

Was First From Knox County To Lose Life As Result Of German Warfare

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

Owing to a misprint in my letter of Tuesday last it was not made clear that Calvin Pease of Port Clyde, was the first man from Knox County to lose his life in the present World War as a result of German warfare.

The two boys from Port Clyde who were on the freighter that was torpedoed and sunk knew the danger they faced when they signed up as members of the crew. At that time the South Atlantic was alive with German submarines which were operating in what was described as "wolf packs." The loss of our men and ships was alarming.

To be part of the crew of a freighter was the most hazardous job of all on the sea. Owing to their slow rate of speed most freighters were easily overtaken by German "tigers of the sea."

"Would Be Lost"
Says Ernest Ingraham, Soldering In Bermuda, If Didn't Have Home Paper

APO 856, May 31
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

The Courier-Gazette has certainly been a wonderful source of the home town and home county news. It does seem that if I was without it I would be quite lost as one of my routine jobs is to read the paper most carefully.

I am stationed with the 3084 ord. copomote Service Co. as a cook at Bermuda. The arrival of so many Americans changed the island, undoubtedly from its former tourist vacation status. It has changed much since I have been here and post war conditions will see a different place without a doubt.

Perhaps the next subscription I shall pay you in Rockland, Me. and I shall be glad if I am returned to the States again that I may do so.

'Twas A Happy Day

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smalley Well Remembered At Golden Wedding

Thanks to The Courier-Gazette and to the friends who contributed so generously, the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smalley of St. George, was held as planned, with about 60 in attendance. Cards, presents and money came in abundance. The E. & M. Ice Cream Co. furnished a liberal donation of its ice cream, whose fine quality is known from Maine to Florida.

Music was furnished on the guitar by a grandson, Kenneth Jacobson. Luncheon consisted of lobster sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cakes. The party broke up after a picture of the family group had been taken, all leaving with happy smiles and handshakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Smalley were made happy by the receipt of the following letter from Fred L. Andrews, treasurer and general manager of Davis Bros. Inc. in Denver, Colo.:

Having noticed in a recent issue of The Courier-Gazette that you and Mrs. Smalley were planning to celebrate your golden wedding anniversary, I felt that I should send you a few lines, congratulating you both on your having been spared and privileged to live together for that length of time.

"I have been in Colorado now about 44 years, and being so far away from Maine naturally have not kept very closely in touch with people, including relatives like yourself. Mrs. Andrews at present is sick at home with a heart affection. I have only the one daughter Dorothy, who is married and lives not far from us, her name being Mrs. Armin P. Thebus, and they have a fine family of three children, two boys and one girl.

"The article in the paper mentions that you have five children, and a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren so more than likely you have quite a large number of your family close to you.

"Due to conditions existing at the present time, it is difficult for one to travel very much, but I am looking forward to being able to again visit in Maine after the war is over, and we certainly hope that finish will not be delayed very long. Under these current conditions everywhere is working under great difficulties, and our company here is no exception in that the volume of business is heavy, and it is very difficult to secure the right kind of help.

Mrs. Andrews and I both wish you many more years of happy married life."

Mrs. Charles H. Lowe and children, Janet and Martha, who have been in Orlando, Fla., several months, are visiting Mrs. Lowe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Bartlett.

"IN OUR TIME"

This And That

By K. S. F.

There is as much selfishness in national politics as in city "mess ups." When I ponder on those things that still endure amid nations that totter with insecurity, I turn back to what God gave to the world for safe keeping. It is then I see the tarnish and baseness of man's small outlook, and find he tries to cover faults with excuses he calls fundamentalism.

The Poetry Fellowship will meet Saturday, June 17 at the DeWitt Hotel, Lewiston, from 10:30 to 4 o'clock. Morning session, business and project awards at 2 o'clock. Paul G. Whitbeck of Bates College will speak on "Contemporary Poetry."

The deep interest shown by the fine turn-out of Rockland citizens to listen to the reports of the work done by the Church Women's Peace Club, and have the added pleasure and satisfaction of hearing Senator Owen Brewster give his excellent address, was gratifying to this organization. Never in the history of this nation has there been a time when more thoughtful prayerful study was needed than now, for the future of Christian civilization. So much can be accomplished when the intelligent effort is centered on vital needs in line of peace settlement and treaty agreements.

Excellent words to follow: Speaking recently on "disciplined speech," Prof. Korgan at Bowdoin College, asked for a return to honest and straightforward speech, and deplored the excessive use of such "pithy" idioms as "OK," "So What?" and "Let's Go," asserting that "language confined to 'OK,' 'KO,' and 'Oh yeah!' can hardly be said to reveal an attractive richness of mind.

He hoped that after the war there would be a return to "honest language, language free from obscurities of involved rhetoric, free from extravagances—then when a man says 'marvelous' you will know that he means 'marvelous.'"

Resigns Pastorate

Dr. John B. Alexander, Formerly of North Haven, Accepts Important Position In Missouri

Rev. John B. Alexander, who has resigned from pastorate of Keuka Park (N. Y.) Baptist Church.

Reading his resignation as pastor of Keuka Park Baptist Church before his congregation last Sunday morning, Dr. John B. Alexander, College Pastor and Assistant Professor in the Department of Christian Leadership at Keuka College, announced that he would leave on Sept. 1, when the resignation becomes effective, to take the post of Professor of Religion and Head of the Department of Religion at Culver-Stockton College, Canton, Missouri.

Dr. Alexander assumed his present duties in December, 1936, coming from Yale University where he was engaged in research, after receiving his doctor's degree there, with honors in all subjects, in 1935. He also holds the degree of B.D., magna cum laude, from Yale Divinity School, 1932, and B.A., summa cum laude, from Bates College, 1938. He graduated from the High School at North Haven, where he lived until his family moved to Dresden, in 1922.

Having received ordination in his home church where he was baptized in 1921, he has held pastorates in the Federated Churches of Litchfield, Maine, and in the First Congregational Church of Lyme, Connecticut, as well as at Keuka Park.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Tau Kappa Alpha, Pi Gamma Mu, The Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, and the National Association of Biblical Instructors, Dr. Alexander since going to Keuka has published two books, "Turning on Lights," 1940 and "Early Babylonian Letters and Economic Texts," 1943, and has contributed to the Journal of Biblical Literature.

Besides his regular preaching and teaching duties he has coached college debate, accompanying teams on two long tours and many short trips, has served as a member of student-faculty congress and of the Judiciary and on various faculty committees. He has been in charge of the weekly formal chapel service, the Sunday morning worship service and has kept up the Wednesday

Dr. Alexander has acted as secretary of the Yates Baptist Ministers' and Laymen's Conference, Moderator of the Ontario-Yates Baptist Association, and as preacher of the annual sermon. He has been in demand as a speaker and discussion leader at service clubs, conferences, and special church services.

Until recently he has spent his Summer vacations in research in his field, but with the inauguration of the long Winter field period he worked during that time in 1943 as accountant at the Sampson Naval Training Station, and during the following Summer and last Winter vacation at Walkerbilt in Penn Yan, New York.

Dr. Alexander is married and has two daughters, Ruth-Ann, 12, in the Penn Yan Junior High School, and Mary-Margaret, 6, in the first grade of the local school.

"While we shall miss all the friends we have made here," Dr. Alexander says, "and the loveliness of the Finger Lakes, we are looking forward to exploring new country and making new friends. It is strange, but we are forever locating near some place connected with the life of Mark Twain. First, we were not far from Hartford, Connecticut, for seven years we have been here near Elmira; and now we are moving to the Mississippi just above Hannibal. I hope we may yet follow his footsteps in a trip around the world!"

WILLIAM E. RANDLETT

William E. Randlett, native and lifelong resident of Islesboro died Saturday in a Belfast Hospital after a brief illness.

He was the son of Matthew and Dora (Coombs) Randlett and was born Oct. 30, 1873. He followed the sea throughout his life.

He is survived by his widow, Hazel Randlett; four daughters, Marjorie E., of Belfast; Beatrice M., of Rockland; Harriet L. and Gertrude M., both of Islesboro, and Mrs. Hattie Masten of Augusta. Funeral services were held at the Baptist Church Monday.

CAPT. HENLEY'S "INVICTUS"

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

If any reader possesses authentic information as to what hardships were suffered by the author of that remarkable poem, "Invictus" by Capt. William Ernest Henley, may I ask him to furnish it in full detail for your valuable columns please. Opinions greatly vary as to the punishments he did receive after his bold challenge to fate, also as to whether his attitude was reverent or disdainful and defiant? Who was he? Where did he live?

Bowlers Made Merry

Y. M. C. A. Ladies League Spends Memorable Night—Loving Cup Presented

The annual bowling banquet of the Ladies' League of the Y.M.C.A. was held Monday night at the Y. A. delicious baked bean supper was served to 31 bowlers with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Benn as special guests.

The dining room was tastefully decorated with festoons of blue and gold. Centerpieces on each table consisted of gaily wound bowling pins. Spring flowers of the predominating colors were also used on the tables. Miniature bowling pins for each with team names and year printed in blue and tied with yellow ribbon were used as favors and the attractive hand painted place cards were the handiwork of Adelaide Sawyer. During the banquet singing was enjoyed, with Vira Thomas at the piano.

After the dinner remarks were made by Winnie Burkett, president of the Bowling Club, who called attention to the Eagle which graced the head table significant of the fact that the Eagles had finished on top in the league this season and presented the Captain of the team, Mrs. Florence Dailey, with a cleverly designed loving cup, Mr. Benn being the creator. Mrs. Dailey responded with appropriate remarks.

Fannie Payson of the Eagles had high average of the year with 83. High single for the season in the afternoon league, Bernice Libby with 111; high total in this league, Gertrude Dority Fogg with 195. In the Friday Evening League, high single for season to Winnie Burkett of the Hawks, with 107, and high total to Capt. Dailey of the Eagles with 191.

Mr. Benn, Y secretary, spoke briefly to the bowlers, after which all adjourned to the alley for a bowling tournament. The fifth box in the string had to be bowled with the left hand instead of the right in most cases and vice versa and quite a few of the girls surprised themselves with the number of pins they knocked down! Prize for high single of 103 went to Winnie Burkett and for low score to Beulah Libby with 50.

The committee in charge of this delightful occasion was headed by Winnie Burkett, ably assisted by Fannie Payson, Peg Kelley, Eleanor Hansen, Adelaide Sawyer, Evelyn Wilson and Dot Poland.

Those attending were as follows, by teams: Afternoon League, Evelyn Wilson, Nancy Atkins, Ernestine Buzzell, Bernice Libby and Edna Joyce; Friday Evening League,

MY ROCKLAND

By
Ime Forgotten

For many years, particularly during the last 40 years of the Nineteenth Century, there seemed to be one outstanding man in the Maine delegation in Washington, who, largely by reason of an unusual personality bore the distinctive title of the "Man from Maine." William Pitt Fessenden, a Senator in the Sixties bore the title. His successor was James G. Blaine. As Blaine passed from the halls of Congress the title descended to "Tom" Reed and when Reed resigned in the zenith of his power as Speaker of the House of Representatives it was not long before the title came to be applied to a new Representative in Congress, a Rockland man—Charles E. Littlefield.

William Pitt Fessenden, who came from Portland, is regarded as one of the leading statesmen of his generation. He was first a Representative in Congress, and later a Senator. He resigned from the Senate in 1864 to become Secretary of the Treasury in the Cabinet of President Lincoln, when Secretary Chase retired from the Cabinet.

This event was of great import to Rockland, as a Rockland man, Nathan A. Farwell, was appointed to the Senate to fill out his unexpired term. Senator Farwell was a conspicuous man on the streets of Rockland in my youth, and he looked the part of a United States Senator. Rockland had a further interest in the Fessenden family, as a brother of the Senator, Rev. Samuel C. Fessenden, was pastor of the Congregational Church for a number of years in the Fifties and Sixties, and he also served one term in Congress from Maine.

Fessenden returned to the Senate in 1865, and his greatest title to fame and to the gratitude of the country lies in his resistance to political pressure in refusing to vote for the impeachment of President

Hawks, Winnie Burkett, Dot Thompson, Adelaide Sawyer and Doris Sylvester; Eagles, Fannie Payson, Peg Kelley, Olive Young, Floss Dailey and El Hansen; Condors, Alice Clancy, Myrt Mutch, Bessie Robinson, Barb Dyer, Hazel French and Adelyn Dean; Owls, Gertrude Morrow, Winnie Conley, Pete Kirk, Elsie Magee, Dot Frye and Dot Poland. Substitutes, Marie O'Brien, Viri Thomas and Beulah Libby and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Benn—By Nellie Ames.

Andrew Johnson. His vote was a matter of doubt until it was actually recorded, and it saved the President from impeachment, something which is now admitted would have been a great mistake. Although Maine did not approve the position which he took, he was greatly honored and was tendered a great ovation in Portland on his return after the vote. He died in 1869.

When Senator Fessenden passed off from the stage James G. Blaine was already a conspicuous actor upon it, and "Blaine of Maine" was a euphonistic expression for years. He served as Speaker of the House of Representatives for six years, and later as Senator from Maine.

He left the Senate to enter the Cabinet of President Garfield as Secretary of State but resigned a few months after Garfield's death.

He was the Republican nominee for President in 1884, and was defeated by a very narrow margin as a result of a very unfortunate slip. Later he served as Secretary of State in the Cabinet of President Harrison. He was a pioneer in the attempt to form and retain friendship for this country with the Latin-American countries.

He died in 1893 and was buried in Washington, but years afterwards his remains were brought back to Maine and now rest in Augusta, his home town in Maine. He was not a native of Maine but was born in Pennsylvania. He came to Maine because his wife was a Maine woman. His home, adjoining the capitol grounds in Augusta, is now the Governor's Mansion.

When Blaine resigned from the Senate to enter the Cabinet of President Garfield, a Representative in Congress from Maine, "Tom" Reed, of the First District, was all ready to succeed to his title as the "Man from Maine." He was an immense man physically, and even larger intellectually. The Republican party was in the minority during the greater part of his early Congressional career, but he became a conspicuous and leading member of the minority, and when a Republican Congress came into power in 1889 he was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Fifty-first Congress.

He made his reputation in the Speaker's chair by forcing a revision of the rules regarding the counting of a quorum under which

Sezak's New Job

Former Rockland High Coach Is Going To East Orange, N. J.

Sam Sezak, assistant faculty manager of athletics and a coach of Freshman and varsity athletic teams at University of Maine since 1939, has accepted a position as head coach of Football at East Orange, N. J. High School.

Sezak will assume his new duties at the opening of the Fall school term in September. Sezak also will be instructor in physical education. Sam has been assistant to faculty manager of athletics Ted Curtis since 1939, and has coached Jayvee and Freshman football. He also was assistant varsity football coach last year and this year took over the head-coaching duties during the illness of Coach Bill Kenyon. Sezak also coached varsity basketball in recent weeks.

A graduate of Maine in 1931, he was a regular member of varsity football and baseball teams. Sezak and his family will move to New Jersey late in August.

WORLD'S BIGGEST CIRCUS

Will Show At Bayside Park, Portland, June 30 and July 1

The Ringling Bros and Barnum & Bailey Circus, will exhibit in Bayside Portland Park Friday and Saturday, June 30 and July 1.

Bringing to that city 1,600 people, 50 elephants, hundreds of pre-bred horses, and a mammoth new menagerie, including Mr. and Mrs. Gargantua, world famous giant gorillas, The Greatest Show On Earth will present the most colorful and amazing performance in its glorious history.

The big show features the gorgeous new super-spectacle, "Pantos Paradise," starring Emmett Kelley, internationally renowned clown pantomimist.

With 800 men and women stars of the first magnitude, together with an enlarged congress of animal actors, the huge circus will give performances at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m. filibustering by a minority in order to prevent action by the majority was abolished. Later the Democrats, who had protested his rules, were obliged to adopt them so that they could effect action. He was a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1896, but made rather a poor showing. He resigned from Congress in 1899 and went to New York to practice law. He died in 1902.

Incidentally it may be mentioned that Reed was very friendly with a Rockland man, the late Col. E. R. Spear. I believe that Col. Spear was the chairman of a committee in the Maine Legislature of which Reed was a member, and offered his great encouragement as a young man. I have heard him ask for "Eddie" Spear and express his regard for him.

Just as Mr. Reed left Congress Charles E. Littlefield of Rockland was entering the House of Representatives. He was elected to Congress from the Second Maine District in 1899 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Nelson Dingley, Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, and the author of the Dingley Tariff Act, passed in 1897.

He had long been a leading lawyer in Maine. He had a flair for politics, and had served as Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Maine Legislature, and as Attorney General of Maine. He had long been regarded as the logical successor to Congressman Dingley.

He was a natural orator, with always something to say. He had not been in Congress long before his oratory and his personality together with his sound legal learning, began to make a profound impression on his colleagues, and the title the "Man from Maine" began to be applied to him. He remained in Congress for about 10 years and then resigned and went to New York to practice law. He died in 1915, and is buried in Acorn cemetery.

Maine has always been proud of her representation in Washington, as all of her Senators and Representatives have been men, and now women, of influence, but there was a time during the latter part of the Nineties when the State seemed to be almost running the country from the legislative standpoint.
